Astana - a unique philosophy of modern gastronomy with a unique national code

KNOWLEDGE

FROM THE AUTHORS

Astana is the capital of Kazakhstan and the country's newest, most modern and fashionable city. A city of contrasts. Futuristic architecture combined with an Asian flavour has always attracted tourists and has long since become the transport hub of Central Asia. The city breathes freshness, novelty and the cult of modern technologies, but at the same time it does not forget its great past - traditions of hospitality.

The modern capital of Kazakhstan stands at the crossroads of the Great Silk Road caravan routes. Archaeological excavations have shown that people lived here in the Bronze Age and early Iron Age. 11 km from the centre of Astana is the medieval settlement of Bozok, an agricultural settlement founded in the VII-VIII centuries AD.

Visiting local cafes and restaurants is an essential part of any trip.

It is a great way to get to know the local culture and enjoy authentic dishes, immerse yourself in the atmosphere and make new acquaintances.

In addition to local restaurants, Astana has a huge number of world cuisine establishments, so every guest will find something to their liking.

Enjoy the variety of flavours and gastronomic adventures during your trip to Astana!

ZINA

Zina is the first restaurant, which was opened by chef Artem Marchenko back in the distant 2019, having acted as the owner of the establishment, thus providing himself with complete freedom of creativity. And it is here that you will be able to appreciate the chef's skills in all their glory.

The project was named in honour of Artyom's grandmother Zinaida, who taught him how to cook, instilling respect for the kitchen from childhood.

The concept of the restaurant can be described as 'Visiting my grandmother in the village'. Author's interior, made by his own hand, filled with real rarities of home utensils, plenty of wood and furniture, remoteness from the central highways, simple but exquisite cuisine on live fire create a unique cosiness, which is sometimes so lacking in the noisy city.

Our menu is a creative look at modern author's cuisine. We try to use only local products, which can be provided by the generous land of our homeland.

We look forward to your visit. We promise - it will be delicious!

THE FIRST RESTAURANT OF MODERN FARM GASTRONOMY

The project was created with the aim of showing how colourful and meaningful farm cuisine can be. Almost all the food traffic comes from the kitchen from their farm, creating an atmosphere of unique and authentic culinary craft.

The main feature is the in-house cheese factory from which the concept was created.

The milk for the artisan cheeses is provided by German bred cows.

UNO creates delicacies from gastro farm products. These are pastrami from horse meat or beef, smoked duck with different sauces, marmalade from onions and young cones, tomato jams, lightly salted smoked salmon with herbs. At the same time, the dishes in the main menu are quite simple and clear.

Kazakh cuisine embodies a rich heritage that dates to the late 19th century and combines ancient customs and beliefs immortalised in the use of natural ingredients - milk, meat and flour.

In the use of natural ingredients such as milk, meat and flour. A special place in cookery is occupied by horse meat, a national symbol and an important element of Kazakh culture.

NATIONAL CUISINE

Beshparmak, restaurant Arnau

7 DISHES, MUST TRY IN KAZAKHSTAN

1. Bauyrsaki are pieces of yeast dough fried in plenty of oil. Their unique flavour is sweet and unique enough to make them a treat. However, as a rule, bauyrsaki are served in combination with other dishes. A good hostess will skilfully complement not only the main course, but also a cup of tea with them, creating a unique taste experience and enriching the atmosphere of the table.
2. Beshparmak - the dish consists of boiled meat (horse, mutton, beef or camel), thin dough and broth.
3. Kazy is a tender homemade sausage made of horse meat. The recipe of kazy is passed down from generation to generation. To make horse sausage, the most tender meat is selected, carefully removed from the horse's rib. Together with fat, the meat is stuffed into a washed intestine, previously soaked in water for 2-3 hours. The intestine is tied on both sides and cooked for at least 2 hours.
4. Koktal is a large fish smoked on a grate in a special metal box - koktalnitsa. The fish is cleaned of its innards, but the scales are not removed. Then cut along the spine and in the open, like a book, put the outer side on the grate. Thinly sliced tomatoes and onions are placed on the half-cooked fish so that they are also smoked. The cooked cocktail is served on the grill.

5. Irimshik is a curd that has a slightly sweet flavour even without added sugar. To make irimshik, you need patience. Milk is brought to a boil over low heat, then cooled slightly, added starter, stirred and left for a couple of hours. Then again put the milk on low heat and bring to a boil. When a curd clot is formed, separate the whey. Then put the curd in a bag and let the excess liquid drain out.

6. Gent is a dessert made of cottage cheese, millet, sugar, sultanas and butter. After mixing the ingredients, the dessert can be given any shape. When the gent is frozen, it is cut and served with tea.

7. Kumys is a very useful drink made from mare's milk. It is proven to have healing properties and helps in the treatment of gastritis, tuberculosis, cardiovascular diseases. Mare's milk contains many vitamins: thiamine (B1), riboflavin (B2), vitamin B12, biotin, vitamin C, folic acid and pantothenic acid. However, it is worth remembering that after drinking koumiss it is forbidden to drive, as the drink contains about 4.5% alcohol, which is formed in the process of fermentation of milk.

DISCOVERING MODERN GASTRONOMIC FACETS OF CENTURIES-OLD TRADITIONS OF THE KAZAKH PEOPLE

Qazaq Gourmet restaurant and brand-chef Artem Kantsev offer to look at the Kazakh cuisine from a new perspective, discovering modern gastronomic facets of centuries-old traditions.

The basis was a research journey across Kazakhstan, during which the brand-chef studied the gastronomic heritage, the peculiarities of the diet of the inhabitants of the regions and the seasonality of local products. As a result, the gained experience and knowledge, modern technologies, trends and flavours from different parts of our country formed the basis of the restaurant's menu.

Welcome to 'Ulydala Brewery' - the first taproom of Uyde, a craft brewery of the capital, where the national atmosphere of Kazakh colour combines with the skill of creating unique beers with original names.

'Ulydala Brewery' is the result of a long search for the ideal recipe and the endeavour to combine tradition and modernity. Inspired by local customs and history, they create a quality foamy drink and use only the best ingredients, many of which are grown in Kazakhstan. Using traditional brewing methods combined with innovative techniques, this allows them to offer unique and memorable flavour combinations.

The interior of the brewery is created with Kazakh flavour in mind - here you will see elements of traditional décor, national patterns and bright colours that create a unique atmosphere of hospitality and comfort.

TEMPLE

Temple Bar has no signage and nothing on the side of the entrance tells you it exists. The doors are closed to casual visitors. Here you are not just a guest, but a parishioner (temple means temple). The sacrament is supported by the subdued light of many candles, multilayered wax from which the unique pattern on the candlesticks emerges. Vintage items - bronze frames from the Dry Bridge flea market in Georgia, Chippendale-style chairs from an old Almaty estate - add to the magnetism. Instead of a menu, waiters talk to the client, noting his preferences, and only then create an author's cocktail, mixing tastes, aromas and mood.

The eye is drawn to the root of a 150-year-old tree.

Of a 150-year-old tree chained above the bar. It is both a decorative element and a metaphor. It was brought from the small homeland of the establishment's founders - Petropavlovsk. A reminder of the connection with history, family, to become stronger and move on.

FORTEBANK KULANSHI ARTSPACE

The ForteBank Kulanshi ArtSpace project was launched in 2016. At that time, 24 paintings by famous Kazakh artists returned to their homeland on the initiative of the main shareholder of ForteBank, businessman and philanthropist Bulat Utemuratov. Masterpieces of Kasteev, Mulashev, Stepanov, Aitbayev, Tynsykbayev and several other famous artists bought abroad formed the basis of the collection of the new art space and became available for viewing to all Kazakhstanis and guests of the capital absolutely free of charge.

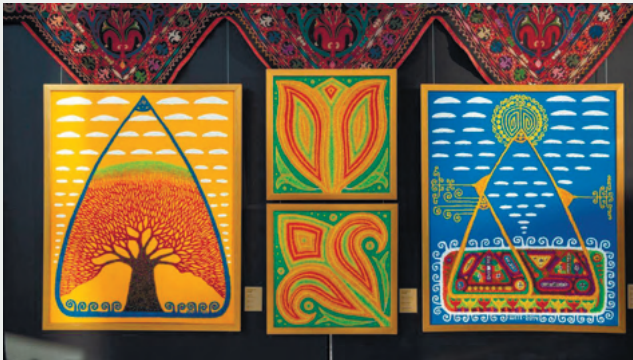

ForteBank's shareholder entrusted the curatorship of the modern gallery to the Kulanshi Centre for Contemporary Art, which is headed by the famous Kazakh artist Leila Makhat.

Kulanshi ArtSpace Gallery, located in the ForteBank headquarters, has been delighting residents and guests of the capital with permanent and temporary expositions for seven years. Among the works on permanent display in the gallery's printed graphics halls are original lithographs of such world-famous geniuses as Picasso, Chagall and even Dali. Temporary expositions are renewed every 2-3 months: ForteBank Kulanshi ArtSpace exhibits both talented Kazakhstani artists and foreign artists.

ARTUMAR

ART GALLERY

ARTUMAR Art Gallery was founded in 2009 in Almaty. The main goal of the gallery is to develop and preserve the cultural heritage of the Republic of Kazakhstan, as well as to popularise fine art, support talented artists and create favourable conditions for collecting.

Since 2013 ARTUMAR Gallery has been an exhibition platform on the art map of Astana. Here you can see the works of Kazakhstani and foreign authors working in different directions, techniques and genres. The exposition of the gallery is extensive and diverse in its composition. A significant section is the work of artists of modern art. It also keeps valuable paintings of old masters, Artists-'sixties' whose popularity has been increasing over the years. Undeniable value is the works of such master's as A.Kasteev, M.Kenbaev, S.Aitbaev, J.Shardenov, S.Mambeev, S.Romanov, I.Stadnichuk, M.Kalimov, T.Toguzbaev, B.Tabiev, A.Bibin, V.Tkachenko, V.Antoshchenko-Olenev, A.Dyachkin, N.Gayev, O.Kuzhelenko, I.Isabaev, N.Ginzburg, M.Kisamedinov and other authors of Kazakhstani art.

The gallery works in the format of a permanent exhibition, where visitors can buy memorable gifts, paintings of works of art of Kazakhstan.

BBSR is a Kazakh family company that produces designer handkerchiefs made of natural silk. Designs and prints are created by local illustrators and artists. BBSR is a synthesis of our cultural codes and modern visual language. We create a style for Kazakhs living in today's fast changing world. Each print is a manifesto of freedom and audacity. High quality luxury fabrics, attention to every detail, ability to make national stylish and modern - what sets our brand apart among others. All our products are made in Kazakhstan with a respectful and attentive attitude to our culture, history and identity.

GOLD OF SAKS

The shawl dedicated to the Sak culture from BBSR is an embodiment of the richness of Kazakh traditions on silk fabric. The Golden Man and Queen Tomiris recall the power and greatness of the Sak civilisation, while the Urjar priestess and Sak warriors recreate the spirit of ancient wisdom and fearlessness.

BBSR creates a unique national style that combines elements of the past with a contemporary visual language.

When creating accessories, we appeal to culture, history and national identity so that each shawl conveys the energy and richness of our amazing country

KORKYT ATA

The 'Korkyt Ata' shawl is dedicated to the legend of how Korkyt escaped death through music, creating the first kobyz - the ancestor of the violin. At the end of his life, trying to escape from the death that pursued him, Korkyt spreads a carpet on the surface of the Syr Darya and, sitting on it, plays the kobyz he created. He does not sleep neither day nor night, because as soon as he falls asleep, death will catch up with him.

The legend of Korkyt exists in all Turkic peoples - from the Black Sea to the steppes of Central Asia. Korkyt is a sage, akyn, inventor, magician, musician, philosopher.

For us, the 'Korkyt Ata' scarf symbolises the victory of spirit over death, style over ordinariness, individuality over impersonality

ASTANA

We present to your attention our new silk scarf dedicated to Astana.

Made of 100 per cent tweel silk, this accessory embodies modern graphic language and sophistication.

The Astana scarf is not just a fashion accessory, it is a physical embodiment of the city's aesthetic. The scarf depicts all the iconic, recognisable places and symbols of the capital
